

OTHM Recognition & Accreditation Sept 2009

OTHM Approved Qualifications are recognised by UKBA
An approved qualification for UKBA purposes will be one which is:

- Recognised by one or more recognised bodies via a formal articulation agreement with the awarding body.
(Section 235 of UKBA Guidance for Sponsor Applications – Tier2, Tier 4 and Tier 5 of the Points Based System)

Special note: OTHM has a formal Articulation agreement with the Vice Chancellors office of the London South Bank University (LSBU). – see OTHM Website for further details.

The London South Bank University (LSBU) is the original academic partner of OTHM; supporting and advising OTHM on the design and structure of OTHM levels and individual units.

These universities are also pleased to accept OTHM qualified students for direct entry into year one, year two and final year of their BA (Hons) in Tourism & Hospitality or in relevant cases direct entry into Post Graduate and Masters level programmes at the university.

The University of Hertfordshire also accepts students onto semester B of MSc International Tourism Management or International Tourism and Hospitality Management following successful completion of OTHM Post Graduate Diploma in International Tourism and Hospitality Management (UH valuation 60 credits).

OTHM has close working relationships with both bodies on matters concerning college compliance, quality control and CPD training activities. People 1st and Federation of Awarding Bodies (FAB). See OTHM Website for further details.

BAC and ASIC are the two leading accreditation bodies for Independent Further and Higher Education colleges in the UK, recognise colleges offering OTHM programmes. OFSTED www.ofsted.gov.uk appointed ASIC and BAC to assist with the accreditation and monitoring of quality standards in this sector.

For further details of OTHM's corporate relationships, please go to www.othm.org.uk > Recognition and Relationships